

A Tiny Reproducible Paper

Your Name

October 9, 2026

1 Results

In our experiment, welfare increases by 2.3% under policy A (reassigning 64 units), while it increases by 1.1% under policy B (reassigning 12 units). Policy A is therefore preferred.

In the 1978 automobile data (74 cars), one more mile per gallon is associated with a price change of -49.5 dollars (standard error 86.2), holding weight constant.